

MicroAge SharePoint Services

Fuel Productivity and Collaboration

With a vibrant and actively growing, globally-connected workforce, building a smarter path to enterprise-level collaboration has never been more vital to business productivity. More than a quarter-million organizations use SharePoint daily. But only a fraction use their investment to drive an advanced user experience—empowering greater company-wide visibility and performance. Rely on precision at every turn with MicroAge building, implementing, and managing your SharePoint environment for the best possible business outcomes.

With MicroAge SharePoint Consulting and Services, you can:

- Discover a more powerful approach to web and enterprise content management
- Unleash nonstop, company-wide collaboration with a powerful approach to social, communications, and communities
- Gain deeper business insights—integrating a robust set of business intelligence technologies across the Microsoft 365 technology suite
- Make productivity gains with an intuitive user search experience leveraging a streamlined, unified query toolset
- Power smart, integrated intranet company portals and public-facing websites
- Preserve critical in-house resources with our trained Microsoft Gold-Certified SharePoint experts
