

Streamline compliance and improve security in your business with MicroAge Security Awareness Training.

Almost 90% of data breaches are caused by human error—specifically employee mistakes. These risks have only increased with the connected workforce and more workplaces going fully remote. Reduce risk and empower your workforce to be more vigilant with reliable Cyber awareness training.

With MicroAge Security Awareness training, you can:

- Prevent breaches and the financial and brand reputation damage that come with them
- Educate and engage your workforce with interactive training with quick, consumable video content
- Navigate your Cyber awareness training with ease tapping into an active online support community
- Let your IT department focus on your business with MicroAge Security experts driving your training program

With MicroAge Security Awareness Training, you will:

- Build the right security program for your organization with an in-depth analysis of your business strengths, weaknesses, threats, and opportunities
- Create the plan and set the annual goals for your awareness training program
- Implement the plan with a cohesive approach to engage users and stakeholders
- Evaluate your plan and adapt as necessary to be successful
